Re: U.S. Patent 6,153,389

Title: DNA Additives as a Mechanism for Unambiguously Marking Biological Samples
Inventors: Brian K. Haarer and Nigel S. Atkinson
Attorney Docket No.: 35232-820.201

Dear Director,

Please change the entity status of the above-referenced patent, U.S. Patent 6,153,389, from small entity to large entity. The small-entity amount of $2,440 for the 12th year maintenance fee and the grace-period surcharge (late payment within six months) for U.S. Patent 6,153,389 was paid on September 4, 2012. An itemization of the deficiency payment follows:

Status	12 th Year Maintenance Fee	Grace-Period Surcharge	Total Due
Small entity	$2,365	$75	$2,440
Large entity	$4,730	$150	$4,880
Deficiency Payment:			$2,440

Accompanying this letter is a check in the amount of $2,440 to cover the deficiency payment – i.e., the difference between the large-entity amount and the small-entity amount for the 12th year maintenance fee and the grace-period surcharge for U.S. Patent 6,153,389.

Sincerely,

John Storella
